Liyuan Flower Market is a large and comprehensive trading center of flowers, plants, fresh cuts, pets, aquariums, classic furniture, craft woodcarving, jade, porcelain, antiques, paintings etc. With the development of urban renewal, its location, style and functions cannot meet the requirements of modern cities. Renovation is inevitable. Elements such as daylight, reasonable layout and atmosphere are essential to a multifunctional and comprehensive trading center. In our design, we take all necessary elements into consideration to build a sustainable new building and to create its unique label on the basis of the consistency with the old flower market.
